Principal, Junior-Senior High School

FACULTY

An abstract graphic design featuring a vertical column of irregular, rounded rectangular shapes on the left side. These shapes are filled with various shades of gray, including light, medium, and dark gray, with some shapes being solid black. To the right of this column is a large, light gray rectangular area. The word "FACULTY" is printed in a bold, black, sans-serif font within a horizontal band of medium gray that intersects the large light gray area. The overall composition is minimalist and modern.

Class Prophecy

Winds howl. Snow whips the hillside mercilessly. Homer frigidly experiences the worst blizzard in history. Miss Bassett sits snowbound in her homestead cabin leafing through the Annual of 1966. As she comes to the Senior section, she pauses and wonders what has become of the members of that class during the past 10 years and how they are doing now.

Meanwhile, "Uncle Andy" Johnson, a little balder--and a little rounder--waits impatiently for the snow to subside so his football game can go on. He gives a long sigh and picks up the latest edition of the newspaper, the WORLD COURIER....

His glance first falls upon the name of the editor, Roberta Peirson, now a famous journalist, who has for some time been editing "the only newspaper in the world that gives a darn about the United States."

Then, as always, he turns to the "Advice to the Lovelorn" column written by Mike Campbell, who, of course, got his start in this "counseling" service from Mr. J. himself.

Next, following habit, he turns to the comic section and reads his favorite PECANS, an intellectual strip written by the famous artist, Sandra Platt.

After a chuckle, he leafs on through to the Sports page. Most noticeable is the large photo of Olympic Skiing Champion, Tania Uminski. She has just taken three gold medals in the Winter Olympics held this year in Zambia, Africa. The article mentions that the success of the Olympics in this warm climate was due to the wonderful new Super Snow Stretcher invented by Barbara Tyrer in her basement workshop.

Another article draws his attention. Judy Johnson announces that her giant corporation, J & J Basketballs Inc., has developed a ball "well-trained and guaranteed to make baskets". And further down the page, a large photo and headline announces the winner of the Indianapolis 5000. Racing driver, Jeff Middleton, has done it again!

In the Book Review section he notes the new bestseller by well-known author, Billy Williams, entitled, "How to Effectively Resist Feminine Charms". On the opposite page under the Poets' Corner he reads Jim Straub's excellent Pulitzer Prize winning poem, "A Romance and a Fisherman's Daughter".

Giving a reflective yawn, Uncle Andy then turns to the Human Interest and Religion portion of the paper. His eye is caught by an article by Helen Burrell entitled, "My Life as the Private Secretary of the President of the United States". Following that very informative article is a very interesting account of Virginia Choate, a hermit who has lived the past 10 years in a cave caressing her old high school diploma as though she couldn't believe it was real.

Willy Tillion also has an article on this page. As the minister of the largest Episcopalian Church in the United States, he is encouraging people all over the world to actively participate in all aspects of religious endeavor, especially the offerings. At the end of this section, Mr. J. spots a feature story concerning the great humanitarian and missionary doctor to the jungles of Antarctica, Ken Morton.

Finally, his interest stymied, Mr. Johnson comes to the front page and notes many other world shaking stories thereon.

He reads that John Gnad, who has become a rich and very distinguished businessman, is about to expand his chain of Joy Anne Hotels to every country in the world. John expects to make enough money to afford to stay at one of his own hotels for a whole year.

The eminent, eccentric scientist, Stormy Stutes, has become internationally known in high intellectual circles for his highly involved definition of infinity.

Pop singer, Atz Kilcher, has just cut his one hundredth record and sold his one hundred millionth one. Atz and his group have been mobbed in every major city where they have played, and more than once they have had to ward off the bald-headed mobs with swinging guitars.

In military news appear a number of well-known names, one of the most famous being a gal lovingly known as the Jolly General. Actually, she is General Suzanne Judd of the WAVES. She has been responsible for a great increase in Navy volunteers through her development of co-ed boot camps. Another girl in the news is Margie Whiteside who runs a training school for Air Force jet pilots. One of Margie's favorite stories is how none of her old friends believed her when she said she would one day run a school of "higher" learning.

Finally, in Military News is Mary Rearden. This girl, well-known to astronauts, is the owner of the soft little voice they hear counting, "ten, nine, eight, etc." Mary credits her Alma Mater for her much-needed training in the subjects of speech and mathematics.

Now, Uncle Andy comes to his favorite subject---politics. And there are a few developments here, also.

One of the slickest politicians of all times, Dale Myhill has managed, through the most skillful use of parliamentary procedure and his pose as a member of the John Birch Society, to have Congress accept Red China as a state of the Union.

Georgea Danby has volunteered to become a good-will ambassador to the poor pygmies in Africa. She believes that she can quite possibly convince these people that they don't really need all the foreign aid they get, and she wants to endeavor to help them set up their own government outlawing racial discrimination.

And then, one of the issues which has really been creating controversy concerns Andy Blatchford, who is now running an establishment on Ohlson Mountain called, "The Still on the Hill", and one of the secret agents of the Internal Revenue Service, Allan Blatchford. It seems that no one can tell whether this conflict is between a man who likes to make his own poison and a man who wants the tax money, or just another family feud.

As he finishes the world news Uncle Andy stretches and, gazing out the window at the snow fast filling the stadium, decides he really should get back to the game and begins pulling on his snowshoes.

Class Will

We, the Class of 1966, do hereby will and bequeath our reputation as the most troublesome and moronic class to ever bluff its way through twelve grades of school to the Class of 1977 in high hopes that they will have as many sermons and get as much fun out of school as we have; and, individually, we will the following:

I, Jeff Middleton, will my ability to get along with my sister to all future math students.
I, Bill Williams, will Humpty Dumpty to all the King's horses.
I, Judy Johnson, will my ability to have the biggest mouth on the cheerleading squad to all the future cheerleaders of Homer High.

I, Barbara Tyrer, will my ability to fall off of my skis to Bobby Moss and my ability to "stretch" to all short juniors.

I, Tania Uminski, will my never-failing answer book for achieving superior grades to any junior unfortunate enough to have the brains of Judy Johnson.

I, Dale Myhill, will my ability to become Student Council President while maintaining a C average in citizenship to the cute girls in junior high school, so they will have something to remember me by.

I, Mary Rearden, bequeath my middle name, Grace, to Charlotte Gribble, in hopes that it may contribute to her success as a cheerleader.

I, Atz Kilcher, will my ability to get free haircuts to Dickie Gregoire.

I, Margie Whiteside, will my known position as Homer High's greatest flirt to Patty Pate who may need it.

I, Georgea Danby, will my ability to play basketball to Gayle Gregory.

I, Ken Morton, will all my old books and crummy grades to the poor juniors, and everything else including the name "Mouse" to Dean Epperson.

I, Virginia Choate, will all my family living notes to Melinda Ellis, and my "patience" to Susie Arndt.

I, Suzanne Judd, will my big mouth to my shy sister, Sandy.

I, John Gnad, will my life as a teacher's son to any poor fool who thinks he would like teaching.

I, Sandy Platt, bequeath my ability to flirt with all the boys in Mechanical Drawing to the next girl who takes the course.

I, Helen Burrell, will all the luck I have had in Homer High to Bert McLay.

I, Willy Tillion, will my ability to pay strict attention in American Government class to Sunny Kilcher, who from all evidence is in need of it.

I, Mike Campbell, bequeath my ability to convince the girls of anything to the next good liar of Homer High.

I, Stormy Stutes, will my position as Student Council treasurer to Bruce Turkington, trusting he will bear the burden as honestly as I have.

I, Roberta Peirson, will my ability to keep calm, cool, and collected while making speeches to Steve Nixon for him to use at all Pep Assemblies next year.

I, Andy Blatchford, bequeath my place on the Annual Staff to anyone who loves to draw Mariners' wheels.

I, Jim Straub, will my "bench-warming" ability to Dan Calhoun.

I, Allan Blatchford, will all the desks in the school bearing my initials to Homer High and to all future students with the initials "A. B. "

STUDENT TEACHER DAY

In Retrospect

Throughout its entire history, the Class of 1966 has been known for its small membership. Even the graduating class has but one more member than the class had in the third grade when the above picture was taken. There has, however, been a large turnover in students, with some students leaving for a year or two and later returning. In all, there are eight students who attended third grade in Homer that are graduating this year, but only two of them, Dale Myhill and Tania Uminski, have completed all twelve years of school in Homer.

Members of the Class of 1966 shown in this picture are: (1) Mary Rearden, (2) Judy Johnson, (3) Jim Straub, (4) Jeff Middleton, (5) Dale Myhill, (6) Allen Blatchford, (7) Tania Uminski.

SPORTS

Athletic Club

One of the most important clubs of Homer High is the Athletic Club. This organization takes the responsibility of paying for basketball players trips out of town, ski trips and wrestling trips, in addition to purchasing uniforms and promoting school spirit.

The Athletic Club until recently was composed of the basketball players, track enthusiasts, and wrestlers. This year the skiers and cheerleaders were added to the roll. Incidentally, this marks the first time females have succeeded in getting to be official members of the Athletic Club of HHS.

Officers of the Athletic Club are: President, Steve Nixon; Vice President, Greg Rozak; Secretary-Treasurer, Atz Kilcher, and Correspondence Secretary, Millie Morawitz.

There is also an Athletic Club jury, whose duty is to pass judgement and recommend punishment, if any, for violators of training rules.

This year the Club has gone all out on a campaign to raise funds. This drive climaxed in the Carnival held on January 22. Previously the Club income had been supplemented by pin and banner sales, bus trips and the admission fees of basketball games.

Ski Team

Homer High School fielded one of the strongest boys' ski teams in the state this year. In their first two meets, against top competition, the boys placed first both times. Skiing for the boys' team were Atz Kilcher, Larry Martin, Robby Hoedel, Drew Nixon, Bert McLay, Bobby Moss, and Warren Huff. Results of the two completed meets were as follows:

AMU Invitational

1. Homer	191.1
2. East Anchorage	187.5
3. West Anchorage	182.7
4. U of A	171.2
5. AMU	141.9
6. Lathrop	86.4

Homer Invitational

1. Homer	284.2
2. East Anchorage	281.6
3. West Anchorage	276.8

The girls' team suffered the loss of three of their ranks but still managed to field a strong team. Although not entering the AMU meet, Homer girls placed second behind East Anchorage in the Homer Meet. They also entered the All-Alaska High School Championships at Alyeska and another local meet. Girls comprising the team were Millie Morawitz, Sally Calhoun, Carolyn Jacobs, Jean Mead, Gayle Gregory, and Tania Uminski.

Top Alpine skiers Bobby Moss and Bert McLay were very much in for contention for berths on the Alaska Junior National Team. Both boys represented Alaska on last year's team which competed at Bend, Oregon.

Nordic skiers Atz Kilcher and Tad Martin also competed for places on the four-man cross-country team for competition at Winter Park, Colorado.

The newest addition to the athletic program is scholastic wrestling. Although the wrestling program has been in existence for only two years, the Mariners have been fortunate to have a squad member place in the state tournament. Last year Greg Rozak placed third. Joe Covault, A Colorado transfer, is a welcome addition to the squad. Otherwise, the Mariner squad is young and inexperienced.

The large number of freshmen and sophomores suggest a bright future for Homer High wrestling fans.

OFFICERS: President, Gayle Gregory; Vice President, Rey-el Venta; Secretary, Lydia McGaughey; Treasurer, Pat McMorrow.

The GAA organization has been striving to provide for the girls a basis of fair play, wholesome pleasure, and healthy character building.

The organization meets once a week in the gym to provide an evening of sports for the girls and also to take care of any business which arises.

TO: The Students of Homer High

FROM: The Mighty Alumni

CONCERNING: A public challenge inviting the treacherous Mariners to join in conflict so that we may wipe the stain from our good name.

We, the Alumni of Homer High School, do hereby challenge the Mariners to a basketball game on Wednesday the 20th day of December at 4 p.m.

This game is a necessary retaliatory measure taken to preserve the noble and honorable name of the Mighty Alumni, who were foully defeated by these obnoxious Mariners. These aforesaid Mariners took unfair advantage of us by striking when our numbers were so weakened so as to insure their victory.

This treachery is not to be borne! The stain on our name must be wiped out, the record must be set straight; and we invite you to come and witness the humbling of these upstarts by the Mighty Alumni.

Confidently,

The Mighty Alumni

TO: The Mighty Alumni

Student Council

This year's Council has been quite active in student affairs. In addition to its regular functions of co-ordinating the activities of student organizations, the Council has made an effort to learn how other Alaskan schools manage their student body affairs and finances for the purpose of clarifying and expediting the affairs of Homer High.

This year's Council has to the best of its ability endeavored to outline the responsibilities and leadership necessary in student government through the Student Council in an effort to improve Student-Community relations.

All-Alaska State Champs

Homer High School boys' ski team capped their ski season by taking the state meet in Anchorage. After being behind only slightly after the cross-country event, they went on to take both the Slalom and Giant Slalom events and win the over-all title.

This year's team is the product of many years' work and must be reckoned with again next year as only one member of the team will be lost through graduation.

The Homer girls' team also made a strong showing, finishing in second place.

Final boys' team standings were: Homer 287.9; East Anchorage 284.7; West Anchorage 260.4; and Juneau 240.3.

The Junior High School sports' program consisted of four sports--cross-country, basketball, skiing, and track.

The fall cross-country squad concluded a successful season by winning the Kenai Peninsula Borough Championship. Coach Kellow's basketball team played six games during the season, making trips to both Kenai and Ninilchik.

The skiing season is highlighted each spring by participation in the local Ski Club races.

The track team this spring defended the Peninsula championship. They have won the meet for the last three years in a row.
